Letter & Reply: Hope, Yes; Amtrak, No

Editor The Star: A great deal of homework seems to have gone into the project of getting passenger rail service back into Arkansas. It is for certain that this service will run THROUGH Hope, but it is not at all resolved whether or not it will actually stop in Hope.

It would seem to me that this would be the time for the city manager and the chamber of commerce to begin whatever processes seem necessary to insure that Hope would be a scheduled stop.

I think we have to face it: Transportation is the name of the game. If we are interested in programs let's get busy. Faithfully yours,

WILLIAM H. RISINGER

Oct. 20, 1972
Vicar, St. Mark's
Episcopal Church
Hope, Ark.

Certainly if Amtrak should schedule passenger trains through Hope your editor would like to see our city included in the list of stops.

Unfortunately, while I'm for Hope I am against Amtrak.

A great deal of noise has been stirred up in Little Rock over Arkansas' exclusion from the new federally-subsidized system of passenger trains, but if past publicity efforts by the capital city are any clue then those of us living in the hinterland would be justified in suspecting that the effort is more for Little Rock than for Arkansas.

Amtrak being at best only a limited form of passenger service compared to the unsubsidized service given by the railroads under private auspices, it is highly unlikely Hope will get more than a preliminary hearing if she petitions for a scheduled stop. Under private operation all passenger stops were discontinued between Little Rock and Texarkana—and I don't think we'll have any better luck dealing with Amtrak.

Don't forget that Amtrak is a venture subsidized by tax money. And not entirely federal tax money at that. The states through which Amtrak runs passenger trains are required to come up with millions of dollars to help cover the federal deficit. At last reports the federal government was threatening to sue Ohio and neighboring states and cut off train service because the states found Amtrak's money drain was prohibitive.

In all the uproar Little Rock has raised over exclusion from Amtrak I have failed to find any mention as to how many millions of dollars it would cost Arkansas to be included—but you can be sure it will cost us.

Finally, what policy other than outright opposition to federally subsidized passenger service could you expect from this newspaper, which has consistently fought for repeal of Arkansas' full-crew law and once more will support the 1972 repealer, Act 1, in the general election next month?

Full-crew laws are nothing but a scheme to have railroad freight users subsidize "made work" jobs on the freight trains.

You can't fight subsidies on freight and at the same time support subsidies for passenger trains.

And Amtrak with all its subsidies comes up over the horizon at a time when the federal debt is marching toward 400 billion dollars.

I'm for Hope, but I attacked our $400,000 Post Office and Federal Building project and helped delay it for a year—and if you suspect I haven't changed my mind about federal debt and subsidies, why, you would be correct.

Peace deal in Vietnam is hinted

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger left Saigon for Washington today after the most intensive peace talks of the Indochina war, and the U.S. Embassy said progress had been made toward a settlement. But it indicated that the U.S. and South Vietnamese government still differ on some points.

"We have made progress," said an embassy statement. "Talks will continue between us and the government of Vietnam. It is not in the interest of negotiations to be more specific at this time."

Meanwhile, the South Vietnamese government was reported preparing for the eventuality of a cease-fire.

President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser flew home to report to Nixon after six meetings with President Nguyen Van Thieu. Asked at the airport if his visit had been productive, Kissinger replied, "It always is when I'm here."

Although Newsweek and Time magazines reported that the United States and North Vietnam have agreed to a settlement that would include a cease-fire, there was no confirmation from either U.S. or South Vietnamese officials in Saigon.

South Vietnamese sources said, however, that Thieu had issued orders that junior military officers — lieutenants and captains — should prepare to take over the functions of civilian village chiefs in the event of a cease-fire.

This was intended to insure that the Saigon government had a firm hold on the population and the government machinery should a settlement come, the sources said.

For the past two months, government workers have been painting South Vietnamese flags on the doors, walls and gates of homes and other buildings all over the country. The flags, which first began appearing more than a year ago, have often been described as a show allegiance in the event of a cease-fire.

Informants said that during the past two weeks, government troops have captured at least two caches of Viet Cong flags during operations near Saigon and on the northern coast.

The Thieu government has been preparing contingency plans for a cease-fire for several months, aimed at strengthening and maintaining security and control over the local population.

The question of control would be a major issue in the event of a standstill cease-fire, and both sides would try to seize and hold as much territory and population as they could before a deadline, officials believe.

Newsweek magazine reported Sunday that an Indianapolis man said that he had been recruited by Donald H. Segretti and paid at least $2,000 to attempt to sabotage the Democratic presidential primary campaign of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

Segretti has been identified in published reports as working with White House aides to recruit operatives for the reported sabotage scheme. Newsweek said Segretti used the name "Don Simmons" when he contacted Szihlik but Szihlik later recognized him as Segretti from news photographs.

Time said Hanoi "has agreed to negotiate directly with the Thieu government."

Both Thieu and Nixon have said that any cease-fire must apply throughout Indochina. Negotiations have already begun between the Laotian government and the Communist Pathet Lao, and the Cambodian government had announced agreement in principle to negotiate with the Communist-led Khmer Rouge.

Peace talks in important phase: Dong

WASHINGTON (AP) — A conciliatory sounding statement by North Vietnam's premier has spurred fresh speculation that a peace deal is near, while leaving open wide questions on whether Hanoi's terms are acceptable to Washington and Saigon.

Premier Pham Van Dong, in a Newsweek magazine interview published Sunday, said the secret negotiations involving presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger "are in an extremely important phase" and "we will do nothing to jeopardize a happy conclusion."

The Hanoi leader went on to sketch a settlement plan which has some broad elements similar to proposals previously set forth by President Nixon. The Premier envisioned:

—A cease-fire followed by American withdrawal.

—Negotiations between the Saigon administration and Viet Cong representatives for a temporary three-segment government, presumably composed of communists, neutralists and Saigon administration elements, and new elections.

More information uncovered on Watergate bugging caper

NEW YORK (AP) — Time magazine reports that Jeb Stuart Magruder, a deputy director of the Committee to Re-elect the President, is identified in Justice Department files as the man who authorized expenditures for wiretapping the Democratic National Committee headquarters last June.

The magazine reported Sunday that Justice Department attorneys said Magruder approved the use of up to $250,000 for what they called "political intelligence operations." Time said it was not known whether the entire amount was spent.

In Washington, a spokesman for the committee restated its denial that anyone in authority at the committee, including Magruder, had any involvement in the wiretapping and break-in at the Democratic offices in Washington's Watergate complex.

Time reported that Justice Department officials said that Magruder hired another former White House aide, G. Gordon Liddy, to head the political intelligence squad for the committee and authorized him to spend the money.

The magazine said the actual payments to Liddy was made by Hugh Sloan, then treasurer of the committee, who took the cash from a safe in the office of Maurice Stans, former secretary of commerce and now finance chairman of the Nixon committee.

The record of these disbursements was kept on a single sheet of lined yellow paper which was later destroyed by a cop committee official, Time said.

Magruder told the Justice Department that he thought intelligence money was to be used to gather information on radicals and antiwar protesters who might try to interrupt the Republican National Committee and he denied authorizing funds for illegal purposes, Time said.

Magruder, a Santa Monica, Calif., business executive, coordinated Nixon's 1968 presidential campaign in the Los Angeles area and later joined the White House staff as an assistant to H. R. Haldeman, the President's chief of staff.

Boggs' search expanded

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Three military planes combed an expanded search area through the early hours today for a missing light plane carrying House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and three others.

With Boggs when the Cessna 310 vanished on a flight from Anchorage to Juneau a week ago today were Rep. Nick Begich of Alaska, 40; Russell L. Brown, 37, a Begich aide; and Don E. Jonz, the pilot.

Spokesmen for the Rescue Coordination Center at Elmendorf Air Force Base near Anchorage said two jet reconnaissance planes, 52 other aircraft and four Coast Guard cutters were engaged in the search Sunday but were hampered by clouds, rain and fog.

The air vigil was maintained early today by an Air Force C130 equipped with electronic sensing equipment and two Army Otters carrying infrared photo gear.

Hijackers' demands refused

ANKARA (AP) — The Turkish government again rejected the demands of four young Turks holding 66 other Turks hostage aboard a hijacked airliner in Sofia, Bulgaria, today, and the hijackers extended their deadline.

The hijackers said they would blow up the Turkish airline's Boeing 707 with all aboard unless the Turkish government freed 13 imprisoned leftists, including one sentenced to death. They first set a deadline of noon — 6 a.m. EDT — but then extended it to 7:30 p.m.

They also demanded certain changes in Turkey and removal of "antidemocratic" articles from the Turkish constitution.

BTA, the Bulgarian news agency, said the hijackers wanted political asylum in Bulgaria for themselves and the 13 prisoners whose freedom they demanded.

UN arms debate will open

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The annual U.N. arms debate opens today with about two thirds of the nations in favor of the world disarmament conference proposed by the Soviet Union but with the United States and China opposed.

Mexico, the Soviet Union and the United States were the first speakers. The debate in the General Assembly's main political committee is scheduled to last through Nov. 23, but the subject is so complicated some believe it might continue into December.

Both France and China in the past have resisted all efforts to involve them in the 10-year-old, 25-nation Geneva disarmament committee.

Now France has agreed to participate in a preparatory committee for the world conference that the Soviet Union proposed a year ago. Its Aug. 25 reply in a U.N. poll on the subject suggested the committee consist of the 15 Security Council members, including the Big Five.

Though no reply from China has been published, Deputy foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua said in general debate Oct. 3 that a world disarmament conference would be an "empty-talk club" and "it is better not to hold it."

However, some diplomats remained hopeful that China could be induced to join a preparatory committee for the conference. Others were doubtful.

The United States also is against setting up a preparatory committee. Its Aug. 30 reply in the poll said any action to arrange a world disarmament conference would raise false hopes and lead to frustration.

Still, there were observers who believed that some in-between countries, perhaps Mexico, Romania and Sweden, could work out a resolution based on the Soviet proposal and push it through the assembly.

They noted that upward of 80 of the 132 countries in the assembly, in replies in the poll or speeches in the general debate, had gone on record in favor of a world disarmament conference in one way or another.

Hitler definitely dead, dentist says

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A California dentist says recently uncovered dental records prove conclusively that Adolf Hitler is dead and that the German dictator was in frequent pain from a gum infection late in his life.

Dr. Reider Sognnaes of Los Angeles told an interview last week an X-ray of Hitler's teeth that he found in American war archives provided proof that "I will stand any test."

Sognnaes, a UCLA professor of dentistry, said the X-ray, previously available dental records and an autopsy performed by Russian doctors on bones found outside Hitler's Berlin bunker all coincide to show he died in the bunker in 1945.

The X-ray evidence was conclusive because of Hitler's unusual dental work, Sognnaes said.

"A peculiar telephone bridge, very bizarre crowns and unmistakable gum disease have given us the key to disprove all the rumors that Hitler is still alive," the dentist said.

Sognnaes said the dental X-ray was made along with a number of medical tests in 1944 after an unsuccessful attempt on Hitler's life. It was part of medical records seized by U.S. troops after interrogating Hitler's doctors. The dentist found it in a search of military archives in Maryland.

"Hitler had widespread gum disease," he said. "He had a major infection at the base of his teeth. Some of the jawbone had even been destroyed by the disease."

BETHANY, Conn. (AP) — If you want to keep your husband happy, get involved with his enthusiasm for sports. Wives of well-known sports figures back up their men, not only at their professional sports, but accompanying them on their for-fun sports trips.

Recently athletes' wives watched their husbands,

Tom Mitchell (Baltimore Colts), Len St. Jean (New England Patriots) Jerry Grote (New York Mets) Ralph Kiner, sportscaster (Mets) and former baseball star, and basketball's Jim Ard of the New York Nets as they competed in the Winchester Sports Celebrity Trap and Skeet tournament. The tournament involved shooting at clay targets with shotguns.

The wives had traveled in the grounds by bus with their husbands and other team

While their husbands performed for prizes, the wives got a little target instruction from a pro.

"It is the first time I ever held a gun in my hand," exclaimed petite Rena St. Jean. "I like shooting at the clay targets, but I couldn't shoot a living thing."

"Maybe you could kill a snake in an emergency," said blonde Ella Mitchell, whose husband Tom learned to hunt small game with his father and grandfather when he was a boy. Tom often travels in the dark of night to the eastern shore of Maryland during the duck and goose season, returning the next day after dark, and barely getting a couple of hours sleep, she says.

"My husband learned to shoot as a boy too, with his father in Seattle," explained soft-spoken Joyce Ard. I might be able to shoot something that was plentiful and needed, but I couldn't kill anything that was becoming extinct.

The women enjoyed the target shooting and agreed that learning to handle guns at an early age might be the simplest way to teach respect for them and remove the mystique surrounding them.

"If they showed children in schools how to use guns, I'm convinced there would be less misuse of them, and that probably applies to other things as well," commented Mrs. St. Jean.

The Grotes plan to teach their son, Jeffrey 6, to handle a shotgun as soon as Jerry feels the time is right, said blonde Sharon Grote. She learned to use a gun at an early age growing up in San Antonio and accompanying her father on squirrel hunts. Jerry grew up on a farm in San Antonio and has been shooting since he was 10 years old.

Their gun instructor, Carl Leopold, pointed out that women are easier to teach than boys, who usually have a lot to unlearn. He has just graduated a class of Girl Scouts from his rifle classes, and he has girls and women from nine to forty in his classes.

"Target shooting has really caught on with women. They bring their children for a 10-weeks basic course and wind up getting in a class themselves."

"More women are trying to become interested in sports their husbands pursue. If a woman doesn't understand the game, it isn't any fun, but she should ask her husband to teach her so she can derive pleasure from it," commented Barbara Kiner.

members, including football players John Elliot and Gus Hollman of the Jets, Spider Lockhart and Willie Williams of the Giants and Julius Adams of the Patriots.

"Companionship is an important ingredient of marriage," observed jolly Barbara Kiner in explaining why she was there. "Women should look for more opportunities to learn sports their husbands enjoy, and accompany them whenever they are invited."

New! An old-fashioned shawl

By JUDY LOVE

The good old days had a lot going for them—including what you could get for your money. For instance, I discovered an old magazine in an antique shop, dated March 1895. For 15 cents, you could get a fat little book filled with advice on fashions of the day (complete mourning costume, calling costumes, bonnets, Mother Hubbard wrapper — marvelous, i.e., uncomfortable things to wear).

The magazine also had advice to mothers about their sons. "The mother who has seen much of the world will warn her son of the pitfalls and allurements which will be set to entrap him."

One of the most fascinating offerings in this 77-year-old magazine was a set of directions to crochet a shawl. We followed the instructions, and are delighted to share the pleasure of this pretty shawl with you needleworkers.

It's a truly delightful, feminine shoulder-arrug, with a lovely old-fashioned look that's charmingly new. The work is begun at the center, and the mesh pattern increases in size as the shawl increases. The completed shawl is marvelously large and swingy — it measures 32 x 32, excluding the fringe.

Because of its soft, open pattern, it creates a look of opulence and luxury.

The old-fashioned directions have been updated for you by Coats and Clark, and the revised instructions can be worked in Red Heart Knitting Worsted. You'll need 20 ounces of the yarn, to be worked with a size 11 crochet hook.

We had it worked in white, which can be worn with many different outfits, from casuals to very dressy fashions. Wear it in a triangle, as shown, or fold in half and toss over your shoulders for a different kind of cover-up. Two sides have a long, flowing seven-inch fringe. The original directions suggest that "shawls of this description may be made of two colors, using one to form a border. A shawl of one color, however, is considered prettier and more stylish."

Your grandmother probably made one — so why don't you try your hand today. I promise that you'll love the look. Directions for this 77-year-old Old Fashioned Shawl are available by sending just 50 cents to Stitch 'N Time, Radio City Station, Box 568, New York, N.Y. 10019. Ask for leaflet S254 and be sure to include your name, address and zip code.

You don't have to be an old-fashioned girl to love this old fashioned shawl, just as lovely now as it was 77 years ago in an 1895 fashion journal. Updated directions for this crochet fringed square, a genuine replica of the one in Grandma's day, are available through your local paper.

Helen Help Us!

—by Helen Bottel—

Grateful for Small Blessings
DEAR HELEN:

My wife wants an operation to enlarge her breasts. I fought it before with "too costly." But now she has worked and saved the money. We don't need it elsewhere, so I can't stall much longer.

The plain fact is, Helen, I have seen both well-endowed and lesser-endowed women in their 40s and I much prefer my beautiful wife as is. Big-busted females aren't my bag. I try to get this across, but of course I can't admit to personal experience, so she thinks I am just being kind.

Please don't think she wants this operation so that she can charm other men. She loves only me, but how do you tell a woman who believes this propaganda about all men worshipping big boobies that some men still like understated things?—MR. CURIOSITY SATISFIED

P.S. I'm worried too about the safety of putting plastic bags in a woman's body. Can medical problems result?
DEAR MR. C.S.:

Perhaps your wife might outgrow this big American Breast Fetish if you'd get terribly knowledgeable and refer her to a study published by researchers Paul Mussen and Alvin Scodell. These authors found that men who prefer top heavy women are "more dependent," fear decisive action, need safety—in other words, they're looking for a mother to protect them.

Tell your wife you don't fit the image, and isn't lucky!! Actually, she should be grateful for small blessings—they're coming back in style.—H.

P.S. Any major operation has a danger factor, as your doctor will agree. Also, implants might slow the detection of breast cancer.

HELEN:

A comment on the doctor's quotes you published in response to "Breezy's" questions about marijuana. You should check your sources more carefully. You refer to pot as "a kind of grass" that might cause hay fever. As a botanist, I must point out that Cannabis is about as closely related to the grass family as you are to a carp or a canary. This is not to discount the possibility that some people are allergic to it, just as others react to ragweed (which is also not a grass).

A six-year veteran of marijuana use, I have yet to see evidence that either I or my friends have different skin quality, as the good Dr. Whateaname suggests in your column. What is needed on this subject is a well-designed scientific study rather than a string of casual observations.

There is a lot of fear and misunderstanding about pot, the use of which is only increased by unfounded statements presented as truth to the reading public. It is the responsibility of any writer to check his or her facts thoroughly before publication! —MIFED

DEAR MIFED:
Correction (Please forgive): "Grass" is not grass. Cannabis Sativa is a PLANT of the nettle family. Small rebuttal: It makes me sneeze—and that is not an "unfounded statement," though it doesn't prove anything either. Both you and my doctor agree it could cause allergic reactions.

Larger rebuttal: Concerning the quoted statements of a nationally known doctor (on relationship of pot to possible skin problems), they're considerably more "founded" than yours, which imply, "My friends and I blow weed; we don't have acne or inflamed eyelids; therefore Dr. Her-schenon's observations are false."

On one point, however, we fully agree: a great deal more scientific study is needed here. My object in offering occasional "inconclusive reports" is not to "prove," but to inspire continued research.

One question: Would you believe ANY research, no matter how scientific, which didn't prove what you want to believe?—H.

ASTRO-GRAPH

BY BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Monday, Oct. 23

TODAY

The practical side of your nature will be emphasized this year. There are definite material goals you want to achieve. Help will come from social contacts.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): Financial prospects look rather promising. Should you get a windfall, pay overdue bills first.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): Satisfy your artistic restlessness. Express your creativity in some active manner. An enjoyable time could be spent with children.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Domestic pursuits will afford the most pleasure and contentment. Try experimenting with that gourmet dinner you've been planning.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Take time to write to those you sincerely miss and care for. You express yourself very well on paper today.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): Practical methods pay off in prestige and in the pocketbook. You can get what you're after by exercising resolve.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): You're particularly attractive and appealing to others today. Only a finicky attitude could dull the sheen.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): Aid from a least-expected source could save the day. But don't spend your resources until they're in hand.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Frowns are likely to turn to smiles because of a friend's kindness. You'll be getting back what you previously gave.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): Some trivial annoyances with your work are not really that important. The end results are worth the effort.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): A troublesome associate may mar your morning. But with a pleasant afternoon, the incident will soon be forgotten.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): Something you left undone may cause you to alibi. Pursue the task to completion. It could be a blessing in disguise.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Some of your future plans need revision. Helpful advice gets things back on the track.

Bobcat title hopes fade

By ALAN FOSTER Star Sports Writer The Magnolia Panthers clinched the 7AA title for the second year in a row with a victory over a fighting bunch of Hope Bobcats Friday night. The 35-17 score does not give a true picture of the game. Hope won the toss and elected to receive. Melvin Weston snagged the ball at the 20 and returned it 35 yards to Magnolia's 45. Everyone thought it would be a game of breaks, and misfortune hit the Bobcats first, as they fumbled away to Magnolia on the first play from scrimmage. But Hope's defense rose to the occasion and held. Magnolia stone cold and they punted to Hope's 15 and there was no return. Unable to move, the Cats punted to the Magnolia 45. The Panthers wasted no time as they went 55 yards in three plays with the final 35 yards coming on a Doug Rich to Marvin Lindsey pass. The PAT was good and Magnolia led 7-0. Hope punted, after being stopped cold, to their own 49. Doug Rich then stuck to his guns and went the distance in six plays with the score coming on his pass to Garnet Smith of 20 yards. PAT was good and the Panthers led 14-0. On the very next series, Hope got it together on a 44 yard pass from Robie Boyd to Buddy Ingram. Unable to get into the end zone, the Cats called on the kicking talents of Paul Bazar who booted a 21 yard field goal

Razorbacks play game of mistakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas and Texas put on the biggest television give-away since the $64,000 question Saturday night at Austin, Tex. Texas invested its gifts wisely. The Razorbacks wasted theirs. The result — Texas 35, Arkansas 15. Texas lost five fumbles and had one pass intercepted. Arkansas' mistakes were even more unforgivable — a snap that sailed high over the head of punter Drew Toole and a kickoff that went uncovered. The first Arkansas error turned around the field position in the second half and gave Texas, trailing 9-7, the momentum. The second came on the kickoff after Texas had gone ahead 15-9 and gave the Longhorns an opportunity to score two straight touchdowns without a reply from the Razorbacks. "A mistake in the kicking game ignites something in your opposition and hurts your morale," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "The dam just burst in the third quarter." The Razorbacks took a 9-7 halftime lead on Mike Kirkland's third field goal. The three-pointer came after Arkansas had moved from its seven-yard line to the Texas 21, using the wishbone formation much of the way. "I thought that drive would give us the momentum we needed, and, of course, it might have if we hadn't flipped the momentum with our mistakes," Broyles said. "I thought Texas would take

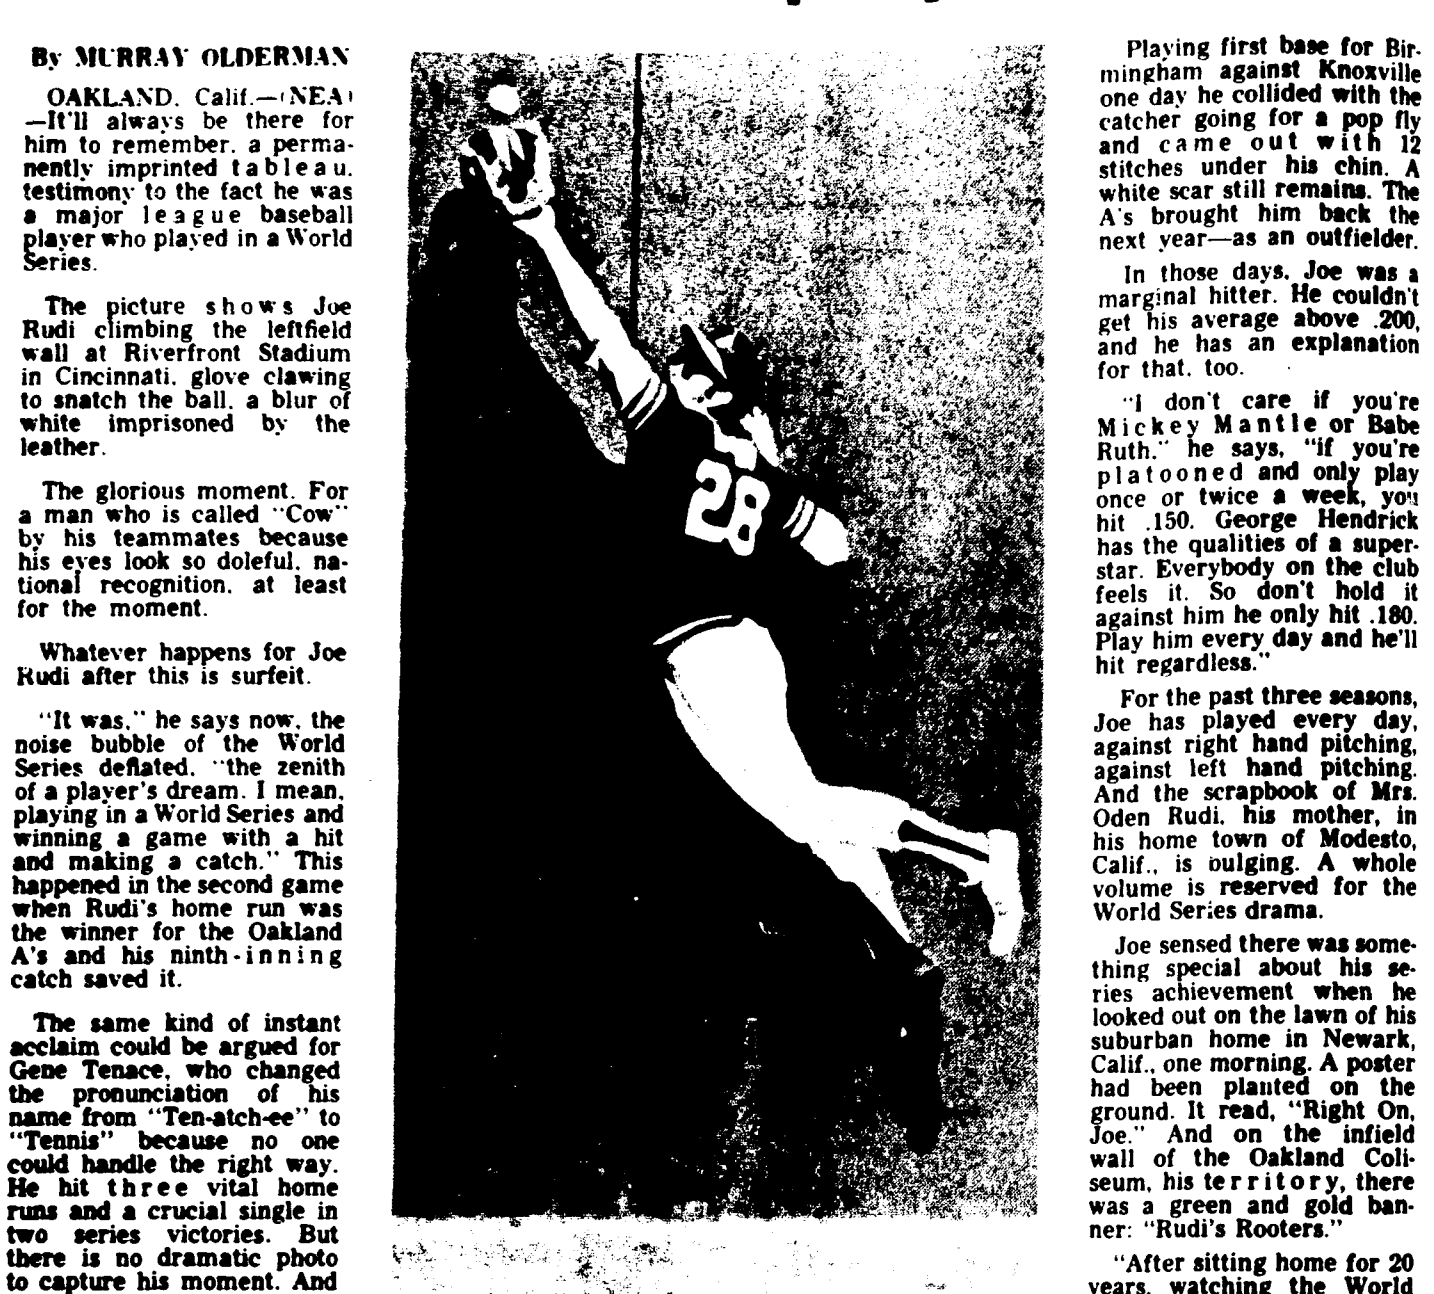

AIC Scoring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS State College of Arkansas came from behind Saturday night to tie Ouchita 28-28 in an Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football contest. SCA managed to gain the tie late in the game, despite freshman Luther Guinn's three touchdowns and 337 yards rushing for the Tigers. In other AIC action, Arkansas Tech downed Arkansas-Monticello 24-14 and Southern State whipped Henderson 33-14. Guinn scored on runs of 67, 44 and 63 yards and carried the ball 31 times to amass his rushing total. SCA scored with 1:06 left in the game on a pass play from Wesley Burks to Billy White Jr., which covered 46 yards. Mike Walls booted the point to tie the game. Guinn replaced Johnny Baker, the all-time AIB rushing leader, who was injured after

Redskins: Sticking together

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer The Washington Redskins won a big one. The Miami Dolphins won another one. The Philadelphia Eagles finally won one ... and the New Orleans Saints didn't lose one. "It was their sticking together as a team; just staying in there," said Coach George Allen of his Washington Redskins' 24-20 victory on Sunday over the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League. Charley Harraway ran 13 yards for the game-winning touchdown as the Redskins, now 5-1, took the lead in the National Conference East and the Cowboys dropped into the runnerup spot at 4-2. The Dolphins remained the only undefeated team in pro football with a narrow 24-23 victory over the Buffalo Bills. It was Miami's first full game without quarterback Bob Griese, who led them to the Super Bowl a year ago. Griese was sidelined last week with a broken ankle. The Eagles broke their six-game losing streak with a bang—beating the Kansas City Chiefs 21-20 on quarterback Pete Liske's three touchdown passes. And the Saints, also winless this fall, didn't win, but they did tie the heavily favored San Francisco 49ers 20-20. The Saints almost won it. Bruce

'The Zenith of a player's dream'

JOE RUDI makes The Catch in the second game of the World Series. Rudi's grab of Denis Menke's drive, stifling a ninth-inning Cincinnati rally, is already being ranked as one of the greatest plays in Series history.

By MURRAY OLDERMAN OAKLAND, Calif.—(NEA)—It'll always be there for him to remember, a permanently imprinted tableau testimony to the fact he was a major league baseball player who played in a World Series. The picture shows Joe Rudi climbing the leftfield wall at Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati, glove clawing to snatch the ball, a blur of white imprisoned by the leather. The glorious moment. For a man who is called "Cow" by his teammates because his eyes look so doleful, national recognition, at least for the moment. Whatever happens for Joe Rudi after this surfeit. "It was," he says now, the noise bubble of the World Series deflated. "The zenith of a player's dream. I mean, playing in a World Series and winning a game with a hit and making a catch." This happened in the second game when Rudi's home run was the winner for the Oakland A's and his ninth-inning catch saved it. The same kind of instant acclaim could be argued for Gene Tenace, who changed the pronunciation of his name from "Ten-atch-ee" to "Tennis" because no one could handle the right way. He hit three vital home runs and a crucial single in two series victories. But there is no dramatic photo to capture his moment. And besides, there was no expectation in his case. He wasn't even the regular catcher for Oakland most of the summer. Rudi had hit a team leading .305 for the Athletics this year and was their steadiest player. Yet he was the most unknown star of a pennant-winning team you could imagine. This was a club which thrived on verbal strife, and the guys who made the news were Reggie Jackson and Vida Blue and Catfish Hunter and Mike Epstein and Blue Moon Odom. For Joe Rudi, 28 years old, with three full seasons in the majors and parts of three others, recognition has been a long time coming. Even on his own team. "In 1968 and '69," he recalled wryly, "they used to pull me in the eighth and ninth inning for Mike Hersberger or Jim Gosger. For defensive purposes. It really burned me up. "Baseball is a game of labels. You get stuck with one. I had a good-hit-no-field label. They forgot that I started out as an infielder. In 1967 I came up after playing 'A' ball. I didn't cover much ground. They sent me down a month later to make me a first baseman. I was through as an outfielder."

Oakland: World champs

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Oakland A's—World Champions. "It has a nice ring to it," said Dick Williams. "The trophy belongs right here," the Oakland manager added while squeezing the gold bauble symbolic of a World Series winner. The trophy belonged to the A's because of good relief pitching and clutch hitting—the combination that helped win four of the seven baseball games, including Sunday's 3-2 thriller. Rolie Fingers came through with the pitching again and Gene Tenace delivered another clutch hit as the A's defeated the Reds in the final showdown. "It's a beautiful thing," said Williams, pointing to the trophy in the champagne-drenched A's clubhouse. Williams understandably was emotional about his new-found status in the baseball world. He had led the Boston Red Sox to a pennant in 1967, but lost the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals. Two years later, he was fired. He was able to take this trophy home to Oakland even though the A's weren't given much of a chance to win it. From the start, they were torn with dissension and labeled a patsy for the powerful National League champion Reds. Pitcher Vida Blue and first baseman Mike Epstein were the most notable of the players dissatisfied with their roles in the series. Blue verbally blasted his manager and owner Charles O. Finley because he wanted to be a starter, not a relief pitcher. Epstein had a shouting match with Williams after he was taken out of a game early for defensive purposes. Williams, accused of over-managing, moved his men around as if he were playing chess. And, for the most part, he made the right moves. Some questioned Williams' logic in using Tenace in the lineup in place of Dave Duncan, a catcher who had hit 19 home runs during the season. But Tenace, who only hit five out of the park this year, made his manager look like a genius when he hit two home runs in the first game for all the runs as the A's took a 3-2 decision. Blue, after sounding off the day before, came in to save the game for starter Ken Holtzman. In the second game at Cincinnati, Fingers gave Jim "Catfish" Hunter ninth-inning help and Joe Rudi hit a home run and made an outstanding catch against the left field wall to preserve a 2-1 Oakland triumph. The beleaguered Reds were treated with disdain in Oakland. At the A's ballpark, fans showered left fielder Pete Rose with eggs and oranges. At Oakland City Hall, a sign read: "Where's Cincinnati?" The Oakland partisans found out soon enough. Or at least, they found out who Jack Billingham was. The journeyman pitcher, with only a .500 lifetime record in the majors, allowed but three hits and no runs in eight innings and won his first World Series game 1-0 over the A's. Clay Carroll, the Reds' best relief pitcher, saved

Reds ponder defeat

CINCINNATI (AP) — The sight of Bobby Tolan limping slowly toward the Cincinnati Reds' clubhouse evoked bitter memories for a team pondering its defeat in baseball's World Series classic. It was the loss of Tolan through an Achilles tendon injury that, in good part, transformed a 1970 National League championship team into an ordinary team in 1971. Now, shunted aside by Oakland in the World Series Sunday, the Reds could look again at the injured Tolan as a key factor in their demise. If there was a goat in the Series' seventh and deciding game, it was the swift center fielder who amazed baseball professionals this season with his apparently complete recovery from two Achilles tears—one of the most damaging injuries in sports. Tolan dashed in on Angel Mangual's line drive in the first inning, only to see the ball rise over his outstretched glove. Tolan tipped it, but the ball bounced to the center-field wall. Mangual scored moments later—it was the game's first run—in a 3-2 victory when Tenace's ground ball to third hit a seam in the artificial turf and bounded crazily past Denis Menke. Tolan later strained a muscle in his left leg as he chased Sal Bando's run-scoring smash in the Oakland sixth. Crippled, Tolan left the game minutes later. "The season's over gentlemen, and I'm going to take a nice long vacation," Tolan said. "I'm tired, I need a rest. I've got nothing else to say." Tolan circled the clubhouse, shaking the hands of his unsmiling teammates and that of Reggie Jackson, the A's slugger who missed the entire Series with a crippling leg injury. "I thought Mangual's fly ball was sinking," Tolan said, "but it wasn't. I just tipped it. It just took off." The soft-spoken athlete said a more crucial moment came in the Reds' eighth inning, when with men at second and third and none out, pinch hitter Joe Hogue was pressed into service for the now-departed Tolan. "As far as I'm concerned, there went our World Series' chances," Tolan said, recalling Hogue had popped up to the infield and the Reds got only one run in the inning. "I feel it was my fault," Tolan said, sipping a cola. "I let the fans down, and I have no excuse." Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, who contended even when the Reds were down 3-1 in games that his team would prevail, granted Oakland the title of baseball's best team. "We should have won the Series in six," he said, "but we blew a game over there (in Oakland)." "So I guess Oakland has to be the best team in baseball. They won the Series, and you can't take that away from them."

Boyleing it down

A Tribute to October: The Very Best Month of the Year

Editor's Note: Hal Boyle is sometimes asked by readers which of the more than 7,000 columns he has written is his own favorite. Here it is, reprinted from his recent book, "Help, Help! Another Day!"

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Lord whispered in your secret heart that you had but one month to live and let you pick that month, which would you choose? I'd say October.

The birds love it, the beasts love it, and man himself then stands upon the summit of the year.

October is all the other seasons wrapped into a 31-day grab-bag package, tied with a rainbow ribbon. It is the period when Mother Nature, the great dramatist, brings her traveling road show to a climax.

This is the month that, like a cider press, squeezes out the best juices of all the other months—the promise of spring, the sultry days of summer, the afterglow of autumn, the premonitory chill of winter. Everything that walks the earth feels an amber thrill, a tremendous bubbling vitality that sings in the pulse.

Now is the glory of the universe manifest, and in the mighty pagent of the hills each patch of woods elects its own tree beauty queen. You like the dogwood? We don't quarrel. I'll take the maple, that yellow torch!

It is as if everyone suddenly had been given magic color glasses. The stars bend nearer. And that big blob of moon—a child feels it is so close he could reach up with a knife and spread it on his bread like butter.

The stag stamps on the hill-top and lifts an amorous bugle to the night.

The squirrel, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed, becomes an annual miser. The bear invests his excess profits in fat, planning to live off this stored capital until he emerges from his hibernation next spring, cross and bankrupt.

The wind at night now had become a violin, playing a love song for the young, a last tune of youth for the old. Do you stay awake to hear it? You'd better! He only plays a little while, this wandering fiddler in the dark.

October wears a crown and makes every man a king. It bears the harvest superiority of the rounded apple over the petaled flower, the advantage of fruition and achievement have over pale promises. April is the fledgling politician of the year, saying, "Stock with me, and we'll go places." October is the mature statesman holding out the golden reward.

Everyone knows when October is here. The air feels like a raise in salary.

The boss smileth, the workman giveth a full day's—I mean day's—toil and cometh home at eventfall to a cheerful wife. She forgetteth to find fault.

Yes, it's a grand time—too late for hay fever, too early for pneumonia. It's a flood in the blood, a high tide measured by the turning sun.

There's no tax on it, so spend it while you have it. No October lasts forever, and there is no real guarantee it will ever come again.

People in the News

TAIPEI (AP) — President Dawda Jawara of Gambia completed an eight-day state visit to Taiwan today, without seeing President Chiang Kai-shek.

Chiang had been scheduled to receive the Gambian leader before his departure, but the Chinese leader did not appear, apparently because of a cold from which the 84-year-old Chiang is recovering.

SINGAPORE (AP) — Prime

Minister Lee Kuan Yew says Taiwan's eventual reunification with the Chinese mainland is inevitable.

He said in a weekend interview that will be an ultimate result of Japan's new relations with Communist China, which he said will lead to complete diplomatic isolation of President Chiang Kai-shek's island nation and then a partial economic isolation.

YOU CAN'T BOARD A BUS WITH A TRUNK. Iki, a circus elephant, learns in this scene in Denver, Colo. So the ponderous pachyderm had to walk that 6,200 pounds to the coliseum.

President Nixon is wearing two hats today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon wears two hats today—those of the nation's chief executive and leader of the Republican party—as he again dips a toe into campaign waters.

Nixon, who has made avowedly political appearances in just six states since claiming renomination, was bound for the populous suburbs of New York City.

First, however, he set up a morning conference with his chief budget, fiscal and economic-policy advisers to continue, the White House said, a review of legislation passed by the now-adjourned Congress.

Nixon's announced aim: to find bills he can veto which, together with promised directives to forego spending some already appropriated funds, presumably would hold federal outlays to a maximum of $250 billion—still a record—in the bookkeeping year that began July 1.

Otherwise, Nixon and his associates have said, a tax increase may be necessary.

Congress last week rejected legislation that would have mandated Nixon to hold spending to $250 billion while giving him wide latitude in prescribing cutbacks.

The President's Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, had attacked the measure as an attempt to infringe on the constitutional power of Congress to make appropriations.

Nixon, keeping faith with his declaration that his most important assignment is as president, has been absent from the campaign trail more than usual for a president seeking a second term.

Following a motorcade journey today through almost a dozen communities in Westchester County, N.Y., Nixon was to attend a reception for GOP leaders from 11 states at the home of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller near Tarrytown.

The White House announced Sunday an addition to the Republican candidate's stump schedule: an evening rally Thursday at a high school in Ashland, Ky. The Bluegrass State will be the seventh on his campaign schedule. Nixon has visited only New York, Illinois, Michigan, California, Texas and Georgia on trips officially pronounced to be political.

On Saturday, Nixon flies to Cleveland to launch a 100-mile motorcade that will take him through northern Ohio, winding up in Warren.

In a radio political broadcast Sunday, Nixon said today's calls for a weak, isolationist America, "are little more than echoes of past blunders" which led the United States unprepared into two world wars. Nixon told Vietnam veterans and their families that "we are not going to make a mockery of their sacrifice by surrendering to the enemy, or by offering amnesty to draft dodgers and deserters."

Do-it-yourself divorce: New twist to game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Californians apparently are turning in increasing numbers to a new do-it-yourself project: divorce.

While statewide figures are not available, San Diego County officials estimate that 18 per cent of the approximately 1,000 divorce filings each month are made without a lawyer.

In Los Angeles County, about 7.8 per cent of the filings this year have been "pro per" — without a lawyer. Four years ago only four persons in a thousand filed without legal representation.

The attraction apparently is money. Lawyers may charge $300 or more for handling a simple divorce. Without an attorney the cost is just filing fees — $44 in Los Angeles, for example.

Do-it-yourselfism was made possible by the Family Law Act of 1970, which changed "divorce" to "dissolution" and eliminated the need to prove fault. If one partner says irreconcilable differences exist, dissolution is simply pro forma.

A woman who said her husband deserted her after 28 days of marriage recently recalled her first steps toward dissolution: "I picked up legal papers from the county clerk for 56 cents, and they recommended I read what to do next in the law library."

Some law librarians report that the most thumbed book in the house is "How to Do Your Own Divorce in California," by Berkeley lawyer Charles Sherman. He advises, "This book is not written to replace an attorney but to help you decide whether you need one."

Vicky Williams, a Los Angeles-area housewife who is divorcing her husband pro per after more than 20 years, says,

"I would recommend do-it-yourself divorces only to couples who have no small children and who can settle community property in a friendly manner." Some lawyers and judges are more wary.

"Pro per divorces are like a pain in the side," says William P. Hightower, presiding judge of the Los Angeles County family law court. "Only an expert can tell whether it can be treated with an aspirin or by surgery ....

Aaron Mann, chairman of the San Fernando Valley Law Association, says that without help laymen may make costly errors in property division.

In addition to various books on filing for dissolution, there are complete kits.

One person who sells them says the kits may even have a use the makers don't intend:

"(Spouses) either want to figure out how they can stop a divorce action started by their spouse, or they buy the kit to scare their husband or wife into thinking a divorce is contemplated."

Rodeo finals will be held at Little Rock

The Arkansas Rodeo Association will hold their annual Championship Rodeo Finals in Barton Coliseum in Little Rock, on Oct. 27, 28. Time for each performance will be 8 p.m.

The top 15 riders in bareback riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, and bull riding will compete in the 1972 Championship.

The top 10 junior and senior barrel racers from the Arkansas Barrel Racing Association will also compete on Friday and Saturday nights. The 1973 ARA Queen and Sweetheart will be crowned at the Saturday night performance.

Advance tickets are on sale at the ARA office, 5808 Nolan Drive, Little Rock, or may be purchased at the door on the nights of the performances.

Boondoggling money MASERU, Lesotho, Africa (UPI)—Maseru police have warned Lesotho residents against accepting 20-cent (26 cents U.S.) coins circulating in the country.

Police said the forged money was easy to spot: "The coins are more or less pliable."

Business mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Seeking to spread the risk and thus reduce losses or add to profits, the American insurance industry is going abroad in quest of markets.

U.S. insurers already are licensed in 150 countries. They operate 360 overseas offices and employ about 10,000 foreign nationals selling mainly fire, marine, accident and automobile insurance. But this may be only the beginning.

One company, Sentry Insurance, based in Stevens Point, Wis., had no overseas business as recently as 1968. Now it estimates that 10 to 15 per cent of volume is from abroad and expects the figure to grow to 25 per cent in two or three years.

"It's been a long time in coming," said John Joanis, chairman and chief executive, "but I think the industry is finally realizing there are some very fertile markets beyond our domestic borders."

The markets that Joanis sees are not only in the likely areas, such as England, Western Europe, Australia and Japan. He sees the day not distant when to spread the risk and thus reduce losses or add to profits, the American insurance industry is going abroad in quest of markets.

Ideological differences, he believes, won't prevent the spread. Instead, the need for insurance will assure its acceptance, he said. Inevitably, he feels, free enterprise will work its way in. "Creeping capitalism," he termed it.

INA has been abroad for many years. Continental Insurance and Chubb & Son also have an overseas tradition. And to a lesser degree, so do Travelers and Aetna.

But, said Joanis, "Much of the industry is not as alert to the possibilities as it should be."

The advantage to the American companies is not solely one of volume. Sentry and others believe that a company with foreign markets is a more efficient, more stable enterprise because it is better protected from cycles.

HALLOWEEN

is the occasion for a party, right, at Mrs. Beispiel's class in a New York school, but the real reason is to celebrate an anniversary—the 10th of i.t.a. (initial teaching alphabet). Below, a young guest follows ghost-making directions written in the 44-character alphabet presently used in elementary schools. The party did have some dull moments, bottom left, but then Mrs. Beispiel broke out the refreshments, bottom right.

Old feud flares up

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Gene Wirges of Morrilton says that Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Conway County was wrong in declaring an insufficient the property bonds that were put up for his son and daughter-in-law.

Wirges, a newspaper man, and Hawkins have been political foes for many years. Ron E. Wirges, 22, and his wife, Carol, have been charged with grand larceny in a warrant dated Oct. 18 from Hassen, charging they had not returned a camera and other photographic equipment to a Hassen art studio where they worked.

Hawkins said he declared as insufficient the two $1,000 property bonds put up by Wirges' wife, Betty, and two other county residents, John Thompson and Edwin Jones. "After returning from Little Rock (Thursday), I discovered that the parties signing the appearance bail bonds...did not have sufficient property to qualify as a bondsmen," Hawkins said.

He said he "signed their bonds guaranteeing their appearance (in court Oct. 27 at Hassen), rather than have them picked up again and put in the position of being harassed and held again in lieu of bond."

"I am the sole judge as to whether the securities on the bond is sufficient, and in my opinion, neither Betty Wirges, John Thompson or Edwin Jones have sufficient property over and above their homestead, which is not acceptance to qualify for a bond."

WWI HERO HOSPITALIZED

MIAMI (AP) — Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker remained in intensive care at Mercy Hospital after suffering a stroke, but his doctor said the World War I flying ace "sat up in bed" Sunday and chatted with nurses.

"He's responding to treatment and his condition is improving," said Dr. John Handwerker.

Rickenbacker, 82, was admitted to the hospital Oct. 11.

McGovern would 'rejoice' at settlement in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern begins the last two weeks of his long campaign for the White House today, declaring that he would rejoice at a pre-election peace settlement, and quoting South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu as saying he would resign "if we reduce American military and economic aid."

The Democratic presidential nominee planned to campaign in Philadelphia and New York with much of his day devoted to political television.

Before he set out, McGovern was to tape for broadcast Wednesday night a 30-minute speech on morality, corruption and the American system.

McGovern said Sunday he has no doubt that if the United States withdrew support from the current Saigon government, as he advocates, Thieu would resign "within a matter of hours...."

"He told me directly when I visited with him last September that even if we reduced American military and economic aid that he'd resign," McGovern said on the ABC TV interview program "Issues and Answers."

"And I think we ought to take him up on that offer," the candidate added.

"We ought to make clear that we would like to see political groupings come into power in South Vietnam that want to settle this war," McGovern said.

McGovern said he hopes that the negotiations and conferences, in Paris and Saigon, involving presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger signify that a settlement is close—but added that he doubts it.

McGovern said if he thought his candidacy had put settlement pressure on President Nixon, that alone would make it worthwhile.

"If Mr. Nixon can end this war on the night before the election, I'll rejoice along with all other Americans," McGovern said. "No matter the political impact."

At a news conference in Birmingham, N.D., Sunday, Republican National Chairman Robert J. Dole said McGovern's being on the Democratic ticket is helping end the war in Vietnam.

"If McGovern were not on the ticket, we would not be ending the war," Dole said. He said North Vietnamese officials are aware of polls that show Nixon leading McGovern by a wide margin, and know that they will be dealing with Nixon after the election.

"Because of McGovern's weakness, he has become an asset," Dole said.

McGovern said if the North Vietnamese are indeed offering, as reported, a cease-fire, coalition government in Saigon, the release of U.S. prisoners and elections within six months, the administration "should grab it with both hands...."

"If it's true, if that's what they're proposing, it seems to me that's about the best settlement we're going to get," McGovern said.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Colitis is a general word

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have colitis and my doctor did not give me a diet. He said eat whatever I want and eliminate whatever causes trouble. I am 70 years old.

Dear Reader—I receive a lot of letters on colitis and the problem in answering them is that colitis is a general term. It literally means inflammation or irritation of the colon. This can be associated with constipation which is the most common form. These individuals improve markedly by drinking adequate amounts of water or other liquids and forming a regular habit (which doesn't mean that it is necessary every day). I usually recommend that patients do this by drinking at least two cups of liquid at breakfast and more if they tolerate it well and then going to the bathroom immediately after breakfast and sitting for a reasonable length of time or until they feel the urge. By continuing this practice daily, many individuals will develop a more regular habit.

For this type of colitis it is important to increase the amount of roughage in the diet which includes vegetables and foods containing bulk such as cereals, with less emphasis on high calorie, low bulk foods such as sweets, candies, cakes and starchy foods.

Other people who are told they have colitis have an overactive colon which causes recurrent bouts of diarrhea and sometimes excessive gas formation. These individuals have a somewhat different problem and may need a bland diet often containing soft foods.

Then there are some people who have colitis or overactive colon on the basis of their intolerance to certain foods. This includes milk. Some people cannot digest the milk sugar and it causes them a considerable amount of difficulty including gas, distention and related problems. Coffee also is an irritant to the colon and even though drinking decaffeinated products helps there are a reasonable number of people who still get irritation of the digestive tract from the oils in the coffee that impart its flavor. Thus, simply switching from regular coffee to a decaffeinated product will help some people but there are still others who must give up all forms of coffee.

It is entirely true that some individuals will learn by experience that there are certain foods that they can't tolerate and all of these, of course, should be avoided. This may mean taking vitamin pills to make sure that there is no vitamin deficiency. People who can't tolerate milk will need to consider obtaining calcium supplements.

In letters from readers I detect there is some confusion on the use of raw fruits. While they may be irritating to some people who have an overactive colon which is one form of colitis, they are helpful for individuals who have the constipation colitis. Raw fruit and even some cooked fruit, for example prunes, often help in maintaining good bowel function.

Mrs. Edwards hosted Rocky Mound EHC

The monthly meeting of the Rocky Mound Extension Homemakers was Thursday, Oct. 19 at the home of Mrs. Vonnie Edwards. Before Mrs. Alford Bearden opened the meeting, Mrs. Clifford Messer led in the singing. Mrs. Bearden gave the thought for the month and then the hostess gave a devotional from the book, Praise the Lord Anyway. Mrs. Oris Byers led the members in prayer.

An "eye opener" on pillow case trimming was given by Mrs. Norman Taylor. The lesson was about quick yeast breads and was given by Mrs. Byers who had attended a seminar on bread making. Mrs. Byers served the club with some cinnamon roll samples. Two leaders, Mrs. Clifford Messer and Mrs. R.C. James, gave reports on housing and health.

After roll call, the club discussed and decided on several business items and Mrs. Bearden closed with a unison reading.

China wants wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — China may be in the market for more U.S. wheat, the Department of Agriculture says. China recently made its first purchase of U.S. wheat since 1948. Wheat production in China has not kept pace with the demand of its growing population and was further hampered by drought this year, a government report said Sunday. China purchased 4.3 million tons of wheat, about 160 million bushels, from other countries on Oct. 1. The amount included 400,000 tons, or about 15 million bushels, from the United States.

The amount was much less than 11 million tons, or 400 million bushels, recently purchased by Russia from the United States. But the Agriculture Department report said China's purchases may not have been large enough to offset production losses this year. It said: "It is clear that China's total domestic grain requirements are immense" and that "each year China is confronted with an urgent need to outperform the previous year in the production of grains and other food crops." The report also said China has increased its wheat production impressively in the past decade, but still has needed to import four to five million tons a year to meet domestic food requirements.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Oswald: "We have had a lot of requests to do another series of articles on the squeeze play."

Jim: "Let's do it. The squeeze is a play in which you make it impossible for your opponents to keep protection in two or three suits by playing out high cards in the others. In general the squeeze is used to bring in one extra trick although some squeezes do even better."

Oswald: "Here is a very simple squeeze. Anyone who stops at six no-trump has no worries about his contract. He starts with 12 winners. A match point player will go after the overtrick on the theory that an overtrick is always worthwhile."

Jim: "Change the East-West hands around and if declarer just cashes dummy's winners there will be a simple squeeze against East. There doesn't appear to be any squeeze against West, since West sits in back of South but South can handle West's case almost as easily."

Oswald: "It just requires that South cash his tricks in the right order. He wins the spade lead; takes his ace and king of hearts and now runs off dummy's winners to come down to the nine of hearts and seven of spades in dummy and ace-mall of spades in his own hand. West is squeezed just as surely as if he had to play before South."

Hard-sell campaign: Trying to get votes of GIs

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command has a hard-sell campaign to get out the GI vote in November. But some military disc jockeys who don't think the sell is hard enough are pushing their own punchier spots: "Put up or shut up!" "We don't have dependents around, so we can talk in the vernacular," said Lt. Col. Felix L. Caspit, head of the American Forces Vietnam Network, of AFVN. "We're talking to the American military fighting man so we can say, 'Get off your butt, and not offend some woman doing her housecleaning.'" Spec. 4 John Allgood, an AFVN disc jockey, said he decided to revamp a spot announcement that said, "Listen fella, vote!" "I just didn't feel the spot was hard, hitting enough," he said. The Allgood version, broadcast repeatedly these days, says: "You're old enough to vote! So what? What are you going to do about it? Sit on your duff until after the elections and then complain about how the rest of us voted?" "The armed forces have made an all-out effort to get you to vote ... But no, you prefer to sit and wait until after the elections, and then you'll gripe ... That's a lot of bull and you know it." Allgood, a former record-spinner for a Chicago station, said: "So many guys say, 'I don't like this. I don't like that.' And they don't vote. I think it's a crime. It's so easy to fill out an absentee ballot form." Since May, the military has been campaigning in the field, on radio and television and through the armed forces newspaper Stars and Stripes to get out the vote. The first push was for registration with an outline of each state's requirements. This was followed with the procedures for absentee balloting and a request to the GIs to ask their families for clippings from hometown papers so they could learn about local issues.

Every night during prime time, the military television network is running several one-second, subliminal-type spots. Each says "vote" — one superimposed on an outline of the United States, another on a bikini-clad girl.

Col. Thomas E. Hall Jr., head of the U.S. Command's voting campaign, said the military keeps no count of how many of the 30,000 GIs in Vietnam are voting.

"We don't want to be in the position of coercing anybody into voting," he said. "My own opinion is that there is considerable interest in the election at this time, but I have no statistics to back it up."

One snag in the voting campaign has been the failure of some communities to send absentee ballots to servicemen. Hall said he had received several queries about this, but the military could do nothing about it.

Dishonor to state brought by JPH: Hatfield

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Guy Hatfield of Rogers, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 3rd District, said Sunday that Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., had "brought dishonor" to the district and the state because of "unethical conduct." Hammerschmidt is seeking re-election in the 3rd District. "Compounded by his arrogance to Common Cause, a citizens group, when asked to mend his ways and truly be a representative of the people, his refusal to step forward in this campaign and tell of his past record can now be understood," Hatfield said in a prepared statement. "For shame, for shame."

A profile released Saturday by Ralph Nader's congressional research team cited what it called potential conflict of interest in the office of Hammerschmidt.

The study noted that Hammerschmidt was a director of both the Harrison Federal Savings and Loan Association and the First National Bank of Harrison. The study said he continued to vote on banking legislation.

Hammerschmidt told the researchers there was "absolutely no conflict" in the performance of his duties as a banking officer and his work as a congressman. "You don't give up your citizenship in Congress," he said.

News briefs

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — Six people were reported missing today after Hurricane Bebe swept Funafuti Atoll in the British Gilbert and Ellice Islands.

The crew of a New Zealand Air Force plane who surveyed the area, said Funafuti was "a scene of desolation." The inter-island ship Moanaraoi, which was anchored in Funafuti Lagoon, reported that a tidal wave swept over low-lying islets. Six people were missing and 90 per cent of the buildings were destroyed.

Funafuti is the administrative center for the Gilbert and Ellice Islands. Damage to other islands was reported slight.

TEHRAN (AP) — Thirty-four of 38 miners trapped in a coal mine northeast of Tehran by an underground explosion Sunday have died from suffocation, rescuers said.

Rescuers found four men alive in the outer section of the shaft. Attempts to drill an air shaft to the entombed men failed.

A government investigation has been started to find the cause of the explosion.

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Armenian suspected of spying for the Soviet Union is believed to have worked through the Russian Orthodox Church in Jerusalem, police sources said Monday.

Hagob Antarbessian, a 28-year-old photographer from East Jerusalem, met several times with members of the Russian Orthodox mission in the Holy City, police sources said.

Antarbessian told investigators these meetings were to discuss various subjects but he delivered no secret information.

Police said earlier they had evidence that the Armenian, who returned from a visit to Soviet Armenia in 1969, "was in contact with a Soviet Agent abroad."

Antarbessian was arrested during the weekend.
